

I am very concerned about the rule changes being considered by the FCC. To begin with, I am concerned that the American public has not been educated about what these changes will mean to them. I believe that deregulation will decrease diversity in programming and reduce involvement in my local community.

I believe the airwaves are owned by the citizens of America and the government and corporations use them with our permission. I think the government has the obligation to manage this resource in the best interest of all citizens, not just for those whose interests align with large corporations and profits.
